

Devon Rape Crisis & Sexual Abuse Services

Easy Read Self Help Guide

Contents

Introduction	3
Feelings	4
Thoughts	8
Triggers	10
How to stop scary thoughts	11
Relationships	16
Looking after yourself	18
Talking about what happened	20
How to contact us	23

Introduction

This booklet is for survivors of sexual abuse.

This booklet says about how people who have been abused might be feeling.

This booklet will give you ideas about how to feel better.

Feelings

If you have been abused you might feel:

Angry

Sad

Tired

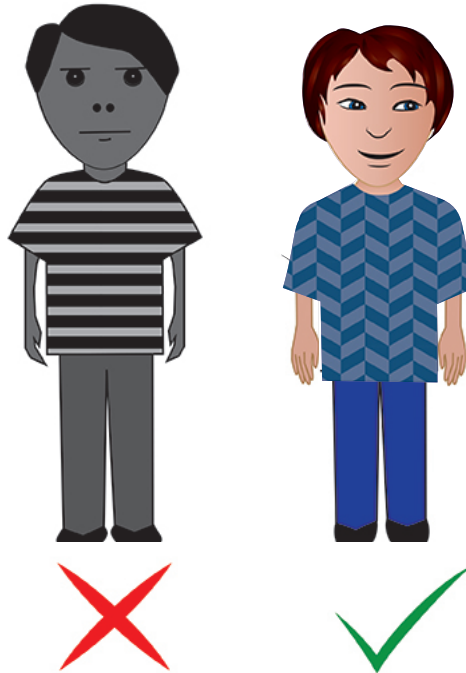

Feelings

If you have been abused you might feel:

I'm bad → You are not bad

It's my fault → It is not your fault

If someone hurts you they have done something wrong

Feelings

If you have been abused you might feel:

You want to stay in bed

You might sometimes feel sad and sometimes feel ok

Confused

Feelings

- If you have been abused you might feel like you don't trust people.
- If you have been abused you might feel scared of being touched.
- If you have been abused you might feel scared even when you are safe.
- If you have been abused you might feel scared of busy places.

Thoughts

Nightmares

A scary dream. You might have nightmares about what happened to you.

Flashbacks

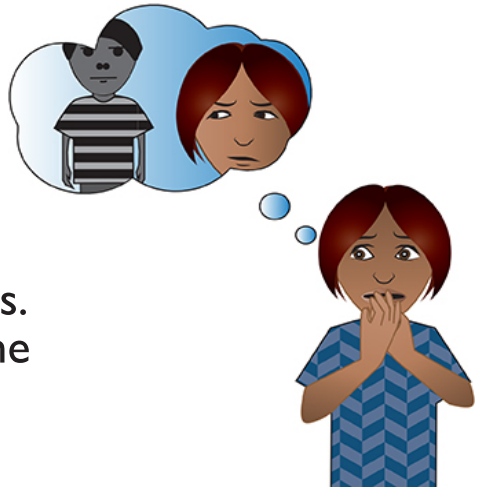

Flashbacks are like having a nightmare when you are awake.

Thoughts

Memories

You might keep remembering scary things. It can be hard to make the thoughts go away.

Self harm

You might want to hurt yourself.

Triggers

You might hear, see, feel or smell something that makes you think of a scary memory. This is called a trigger.

Triggers can make you have bad dreams or flashbacks.

How to stop scary thoughts

Hug something soft

Listen to music

Tell yourself what day and time it is

How to stop scary thoughts

Think of something nice before you go to bed

Take some slow breaths

Think about someone you care about

How to stop scary thoughts

Make a list of things you like

Go outside in the fresh air

Think of somewhere that makes you feel safe

You can use this space to make a list of things you like.

Where do you feel safe?

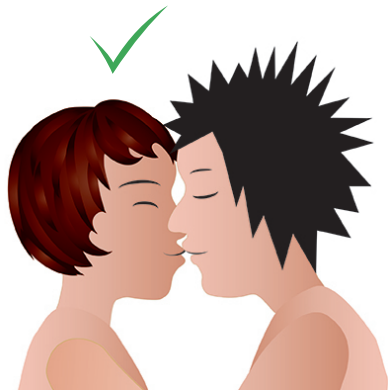

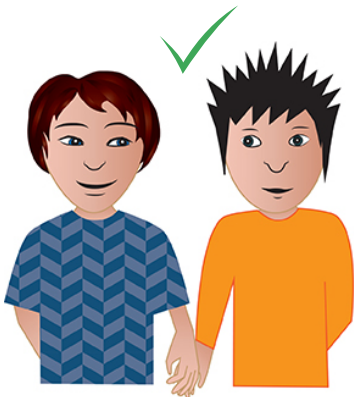

Relationships

When someone has been abused it can change their relationships.

You might not want to have sex or do any touching with your boyfriend or girlfriend. That's ok. It is normal to feel like this.

Only have sex or do touching if you want to.

Can you make a list of people you trust?

1

2

3

4

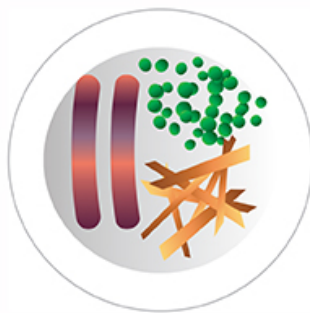

5

6

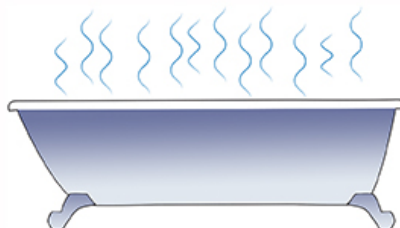

Looking after yourself

Lots of people feel unhappy after something scary has happened to them. You can feel better. Looking after yourself can help.

Eat a good meal

Have a bath

Do something fun

Do some exercise

Looking after yourself

You are important. Treat yourself like you would treat a friend. Be nice to yourself.

Talk to a friend

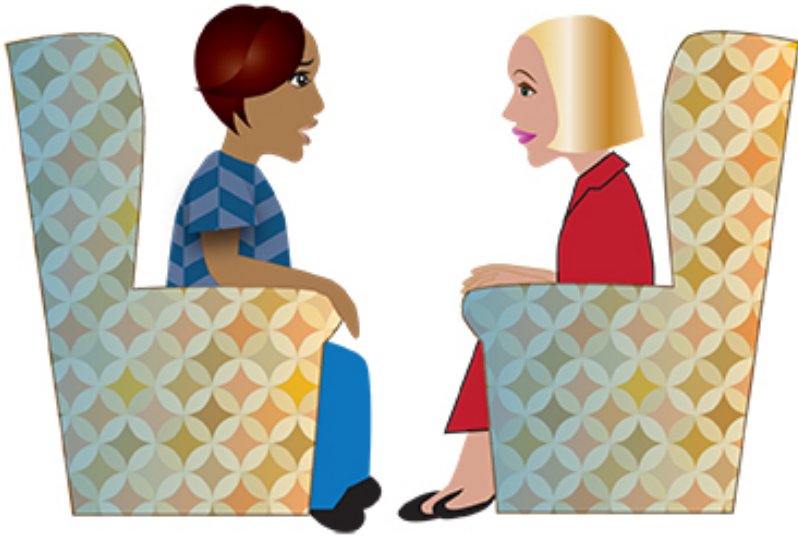

Laugh

Do a drawing

Talking about what happened

- It can help to talk to someone about how you are feeling.
- You can talk to someone when you are ready.
- Talk to someone you trust.
- You won't get in trouble for talking to someone.

Talking about what happened

You can talk to someone at
Devon Rape Crisis & Sexual Abuse Services.

We will believe you

We will support you

We will listen to you

Talking about what happened

If you want, you can also talk to:

- The Sexual Assault Referral Centre (SARC)
Call 01392 436967

They can help you with:

- Deciding whether to report what happened to you to the Police
- What happens next if you have already reported to the Police

- The Police

- Call 101 to report
- Call 999 if you feel unsafe right now

They will help you to report what happened to you.

How to contact us

HELPLINE SUPPORT

01392 204174

This helpline covers the whole of Devon and Torquay

EMAIL SUPPORT

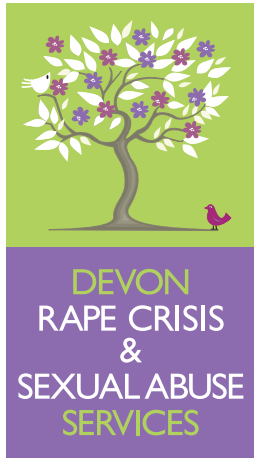

support@devonrapecrisis.org.uk

WEBSITE

www.devonrapecrisis.org.uk

With special thanks to SARSAS; The copyright of this booklet is owned by them.
No reproduction is allowed without their permission. Email: info@sarsas.org.uk.
Also thanks to the illustrator Jan Martin.

Dignity Hope Justice